

Jumble Cloze

* The lines of the passage have been jumbled. Cut out and arrange the lines in the correct order. Glue them onto a sheet of paper in the correct order.

more meaningful way. Multimedia achieves this through interactivity information. In so doing it is recognised that different people learn in processor and a fast CD drive. In recent years CD speeds have such as a slideshow, you cannot sample the full range of elements. different ways and that the same information presented in a number equipped. There is not much point in attempting multimedia on a For a computer system to be a real multimedia system it must be well Multimedia presentations use a combination of media to pass on serve up" information so that the receiver obtains the information in a Presenters of information are always looking for better ways to " . This means that the person seeking information can control when, increased from single speed to in excess of 16 times faster than CD 64k 8bit computer. While you can work with some limited elements An effective multimedia workstation requires lots of RAM, a fast also include an interactive component as well. of ways is learned more effectively. Multimedia elements include text, where and how often they view the information. player speed. hypertext, sound, graphics animation and video. Many presentations